An Option for Advanced Nursing Education

It was designed for nurses seeking preparation for advanced practice as a clinical specialist, educator, administrator, health policy specialist, or consultant.

Graduate studies at the EEAAC/UFF will expand your horizons and create an academic pathway to fulfill your goals.

The Professional Master challenge us to aggressively pursue new sources of funding and scholarships for the nursing research. We hope that the following informations will help you maximize the chance to find a financial support to your education.

The health organizations (governmental or non-governmental) needs create a traineeship program to support masters nursing students.

Traineeships support nurses while they are pursuing advanced training. As well, the nursing schools must create the research and teaching assistantships to develop experience, and coverage of faculty's fees. The institutions may also create a Loan Repayment Program so the awardees are obligated to work for a certain period, with salary, to qualify for payment or forgiveness of their educational loans.
